'Imagination is highest kite one can fly'

Students with different types of kites at Kite making competition organised by TGPCET

LOKMAT NEWS NETWORK
NAGPUR, FEB 2

Makar Sankranti is a festival of new resolutions and new commitment.

The festival is celebrated with full vigor and joy in all parts of India. Flying kites which is bought is not as fun as flying kites which is built by own hence, on the occasion of Makar Sankranti, Department of Computer Science and Engineering at Tulsiramji Gaikwad Patil College of Engineering & Technology organised Kite Making and Flying competition recently.

All the students of TGPCET participated in the competition by flying different types of kites with various designs.

The competition was inaugurated by chairman, GPG Dr Mohan Gaikwad (Patil), by flying kite representing innovative ideas of GPGI Group and said "Imagination is the highest kite one can fly. Throw your dreams into space like a kite and you do not know what it will bring back", Principal, Dr G.K. Awaril, wished all the participants a very good luck and encouraged more students to participate. All the HOD's and staff members of CPGEI were present.

Students from various departments participated in the competition by making kites with various attractive designs such as diamond shape, dragon shape, delta kites etc.

Students thoroughly enjoyed the competition and made HOD's and faculties fly kites. Winners of the competition were awarded a trophy and certificate for 'best performance'. Prof. Amit Welekar, HOD, CSE thanked all for their keen interest and active participation.
